

Andrew Christman

User Documentation • School Workflows

Targeting EdTech Client Enablement & Documentation Roles

On-Site / U.S. Remote • Open to Relocation (Self-Funded) • Available June 8, 2026

apchristman@outlook.com • andrewchristman.com • linkedin.com/in/andrew-christman

Professional Summary

Education professional transitioning into EdTech client enablement and documentation roles, with experience explaining complex material to nontechnical audiences, implementing 504/IEP accommodations in a classroom setting, and creating structured user-facing instructional materials.

Education Workflows, Documentation Types, and Tools

Education Workflows: K–12 classroom experience, college teaching experience (in person and online), 504/IEP accommodation implementation, grading and assessment workflows

Documentation Types: How-to guides, troubleshooting content, quick-start tutorials, conceptual explainers

Tools: PowerTeacher Pro, Canvas, PaperScorer, Turnitin, Markdown, Git, GitHub (PRs), GitHub Pages with Jekyll, Visual Studio Code

Enablement & Documentation Portfolio

- PaperScorer How-To Guide — End-user workflow guide with troubleshooting and escalation guidance for teachers scanning and uploading student answer sheets.
- Markdown Quick Start — Quick-start tutorial designed to help nontechnical users begin using Markdown quickly and effectively.
- Version Control and Git Conceptual Explainer — Conceptual explainer for complex material aimed at nontechnical users.

Relevant Experience

Glendale Preparatory Academy, Peoria, AZ

Teacher (Middle & High School) — 2021–Present

- Delivered structured instruction and support to 60–110 students annually, translating complex, abstract material into clear, audience-appropriate explanations and revising content based on learner outcomes.
- Worked with 504 plans and IEP accommodations in a classroom setting, developing practical familiarity with classroom-side 504/IEP workflows.
- Communicated expectations, processes, and feedback to students, colleagues, and families in a school context.

Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL

Philosophy Ph.D. Program — 2015–2023

- Taught and graded college-level philosophy courses, explaining abstract concepts, facilitating discussion, and giving feedback on student submissions.
- Instructor of Record (3 semesters); Teaching Assistant (2015–2021).
- Produced written research under iterative advisor review.

Education

- Ph.D. in Philosophy, Florida State University — 2023
Specialization: Philosophy of Action
- M.A. in Philosophy, Texas Tech University — 2015
- B.A. in Philosophy, The University of Dallas — 2013